Description
This training is designed for mental health, allied health, and education professionals who wish to learn about the exciting field of Animal Assisted Play Therapy®. Properly selected and prepared animals are incorporated into therapy sessions for clients of all ages, while the power of humour and play is harnessed to create a safe environment for therapeutic change. The 2 online courses and the 4-day in-person hands-on workshop that comprise this course provide 52 hours of detailed instruction on topics such as human-animal interactions, ethology/animal behaviour, animal assisted therapy, research, natural environments, and the full integration of animal-assisted therapy with play therapy to address a wide range of client challenges. The programme emphasizes a relationship-based approach. The Level 1 course focuses on dogs and horses with information about other species included since AAPT principles and practices apply across species. AAPT can be applied from virtually any theoretical orientation, as well as integrative models of intervention.

Participants in this training programme will learn…
- definitions in the AAI field, including for AAPT
- the values and guiding principles for the practice of AAPT
- the five major goal areas that are typically addressed with AAPT for clients of all ages
- how to access information about the selection of dogs
- details of observing and understanding animal body language, especially dogs and horses
- the importance of using humane, animal-friendly methods of training
- the critical importance of building healthy reciprocal relationships with therapy animals
- the role of playfulness & humour in therapy with clients of all ages and with a wide range of problems
- how to build play, lightness, & emotional safety into the interactions between clients and animals
- a sound, research-based approach to animal involvement in play therapy and other forms of psychotherapy/counselling/intervention/education
- how to provide effective treatment while reducing risks
- how to apply AAPT in a variety of settings and formats, including individual, group, and family
Emphasis is on the use of client-animal play/humour interactions for therapeutic benefit. Many specific AAPT interventions are covered, including nondirective and directive play therapy, as well as AAPT approaches with varying degrees of structure. Participants learn how to conduct therapy in a manner that enhances the achievement of goals while ensuring the well-being of the animals involved. Considerable attention is paid to the human and animal preparatory phases of involving animals in professional work, as well as on the selection, facilitation, and processing of therapeutic material within AAPT for a full range of client ages and problem areas.

The workshop is very hands-on. The online courses provide background that is then applied in a practical manner during the in-person training. Video and live demonstrations as well as experiential portions are followed by skills-practice components with encouraging feedback from the training leaders. It is expected that most participants will develop competence and confidence during the workshop and will be ready to implement AAPT with an appropriate animal partner at the end of the training. Supervision for further skill development is encouraged and discussed.

The workshop gives participants a chance to explore this exciting field and learn how to develop, implement, and research their own programmes. Ideas for working collaboratively with animal professionals are included. The workshop is limited to 10-18 participants, depending on location.

This training is for people only. Dogs and horses will be present and available for demonstration and practice segments. The Level 2 training held later features Risë VanFleet and provides opportunities to work with participants’ own dogs, and equine clinics featuring Tracie Faa-Thompson continue participants’ development of Equine Assisted Play Therapy® skills.

Prerequisites
In general, participants should have prior experience conducting therapy as well as familiarity with both nondirective (child-centred) and directive play therapy approaches. They should be familiar with basic behaviourism and learning theory, attachment theory, and family systems. Allied health and education professionals should have prior experience working in their fields. If you have questions about the prerequisites, please contact Tracie Faa-Thompson at tracie.j.faa@gmail.com. Those without a strong play therapy background, or canine/equine/other professionals interested in attending, are asked to read the book, Child-Centered Play Therapy (VanFleet, Sywulak, & Sniscak, 2010, Guilford) prior to the in-person training, and Tracie can discuss your unique background and what is needed with you.

2 Prerequisite Online Courses are included in the registration fee and must be completed prior to the in-person training. Together the online courses are eligible for 24 additional continuing education (CE/CPD) credits. The courses are Introduction to AAPT and Canine Communication for AAPT. The powerpoints, written articles, and video links are all included in the overall registration fee. Two books and a CD serve as additional “texts” for the online courses and are available for purchase separately at low or discounted cost. Information about accessing the online courses is sent to you after you register, and more information is available via www.risevanfleet.com/shop. The two online courses take approximately 24 hours to complete. and must be completed 3 weeks prior to the live training to be eligible to attend the live training. (Cancellation policies apply if the online courses are not completed.)

Special Needs
We are committed to making workshops accessible to everyone. Please contact us as early in the process as possible if you have special needs. Training is held in a country environment with contact with dogs, horses, and other animals.

Schedule
The training runs daily from 9:00 am to 5:45 pm, with a 5:00 pm dismissal on the last day. There are 28 actual contact hours in the in-person training, and the online courses include 24 hours of instruction, for a total of 52 CE credits/clock hours for the entire programme.

Venue
Detailed venue and other information will be sent to participants after they have registered. The live training will be held in a rural environment with dogs and horses present.

Continuing Education
The Family Enhancement & Play Therapy Center is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. The FEAPT Center maintains responsibility for this programme and its contents. The Family Enhancement & Play Therapy Center is an NBCC-Approved Continuing Education Provider (5732) and may offer NBCC-approved clock hours for events that meet NBCC requirements. The FEAPT Center solely is responsible for all aspects of the programme. It is also an Association for Play Therapy (APT) Approved Provider 95-014. This programme has been approved by a number of U.S. state social work boards (please contact us for this info). 52 total continuing education credits/clock hours will be awarded to participants who attend the entire training (24 for the online courses and 28 for the live training). Partial credit cannot be given. No exceptions can be made to this policy. Please contact us re. various canine and equine credits, which are often available. Participants are responsible for ensuring that this programme meets the standards for their profession.

Dress
The training will involve work with dogs and horses in a rural environment, including outdoors. Please dress comfortably with this in mind. Rain gear and footwear for muddy areas are also advised. Closed-toed shoes are mandatory for the equine segments.

Fees - Discounted Package
This training package includes registration fees for 2 online courses and the 4-day live AAPT Level 1 workshop (52 CE credits total). 2 textbooks and a CD for the online courses are separate. We regret that installment payments are not possible.

Early Bird Fee: £ 780 (fully paid 4 months prior)
Regular Fee:  £ 915 (paid w/in 4 mos. of workshop start)

GREAT PRICE for 52 hrs of state-of-the-art hands-on learning!!!
Cancellation Policy:
Registrations are accepted on a first-come-first-served basis. Fees include 4 days of training, extensive handout, 2 online courses, morning and afternoon snacks and beverages. Lunches/dinners are on your own.

£215 is nonrefundable. Written cancellations received 4 months prior to the start of the workshop will receive a full refund of the balance of the fees. Cancellations after the 4-month point will forfeit a total of £330, with the remainder being refunded.

We regret that NO refunds can be given in the final month preceding the workshop. When someone from the waiting list can substitute, credit toward future trainings may be given. [Failure to complete the prerequisites is considered a cancellation in the final month.] We urge you to consider purchasing travel or other insurance to protect against unforeseen circumstances.

In the very unlikely event that the workshop must be cancelled or postponed by the organizers, the International Institute for AAP and its assigns will provide a full refund of the registration fees. Participants will be responsible for their own travel fees, another reason to consider purchasing travel insurance. To date, a workshop has never been cancelled.

2020 Presenters

*Highly experienced – knowledgeable – positive – fun!

The Level 1 workshop is offered by fully Certified AAPT Instructors who are highly experienced and who have gone through a rigorous programme of certification based on demonstrated competencies. The Level 1 training uses the same PowerPoint, videos, activities, and hands-on practice segments regardless of the instructors. The course was created over many years through the collaboration of Dr. Risë VanFleet and Tracie Faa-Thompson, and includes the input of many past participants and animals.

Bios of the co-founders of AAPT (and the developers of this workshop) can be found in the AAPT Directory under Certified AAPT Professionals in the Co-Founders section at www.iiiaapt.org. They have a combined 75+ years of experience in the field and are fully dedicated to the highest quality of client service and animal well-being. They are the coauthors of the acclaimed and award-winning book, Animal Assisted Play Therapy (2017; Sarasota, FL: Professional Resource Press).

Bios of the specific presenters for each location can be found in the same Directory under Certified AAPT Professionals in the section near the top called Certified AAPT Instructors, all at www.iiiaapt.org.
